

LITERARY NOTES.

Bishop Cheney, of Chicago, has prepared a volume of selected sermons.

Jansen, McClurg & Co., of Chicago, are making a volume of Mrs. Abby Sage Richardson's "Familiar Talks on English Literature."

A eulogistic biography of Prince Demidoff of San Donato fane has been published by the Editor of the Italian Strewe, who, it is said, received $2,500 for the puff.

A new London satire, "The Doom of the Great City," in the style of "The Battle of Dorkin," describes how two years hence a dense fog will settle over the city and asphyxiate the population.

M. Littré, who has forsaken his peasant's cottage and his garden at Meudon and returned to Paris, has been correcting the last proofs of his book entitled "The Foundation of the Third Republic."

Mr. G. W. Petes, the author of "American Whist," which is the full game as played for seven points and without honor, has a series of illustrated whist games in press, which will appear in December.

Professor Inneskirk has in hand a work on the stone age in Russia, with special reference to the remarkable discoveries recently made on the shores of Lake Ladoga, and which threw much light upon the subject. He also is about to publish a voluminous work on the stone age.

Mr. Clarence Cook's popular book on house-hunting, "The House Beautiful," is again in press, and Charles Scribner's Sons expect to have the new edition ready in November. It will be attractive in appearance as the old edition, yet will be sold at $4—a considerable reduction from the old price.

A book that will be awaited with much interest is Dean Stanley's "Christian Institutions," now in preparation at Charles Scribner's Sons'. A chapter is devoted to each topic, like Baptism, Communion, etc., and while the book has a deep historical interest, the Dean of Westminster's opinions on those subjects will naturally be the object of lively curiosity.

New Publications.

BECAUSE!—Mr. J. Holmes's new novel, "Chateau D'Or," is not ready, because the printer, working day and night, cannot catch up with the enormous advance orders.
